RESEARCH: Limited research in response to requests, and relating to possible
Washtenaw County and area residents, is conducted by volunteers of our Society, using routinely only the sources available in our library. Three unique sources are the indexed files of query/research correspondence, the Ancestor Surname Index, and an (earlier) pioneer file. Please send pertinent family group sheets, pedigree charts, and census work, as well as your specific request and a stamped, self-addressed envelope (SASE). The Society may be able to supply names of others who can check additional sources. A contribution will be suggested.

PIONEERS IN MICHIGAN TERRITORY

This is the ninth in a series of biographies of early Michigan settlers written by GSWC members who have received a Michigan Sesquicentennial Pioneer Certificate. The documentation for the stated facts is filed under the name of the pioneer in the Library of Michigan, Lansing, Michigan.

WILLIAM GILSON BRADISH, PIONEER OF IONIA COUNTY, MICHIGAN

William Gilson was born 25 September 1815 in New York, the son of Royal D. Bradish and Jane Morrison. William's father, Royal, was baptized in Cummington, Massachusetts, on 6 November 1791. Royal served in the War of 1812 three times for the 52nd Regiment of the New York Militia, crossing into Canada from Lewistown, New York, approximately 1814. He married Jane Morrison and, after William, had four other children, all born in Canada: Ira Nichols, Orin, Rachael, and Hugh, the last, was born in 1832.

Records show Royal swore an Oath of Allegiance to the United Kingdom and worked as a schoolmaster from 1822 to 1829 in London, Ontario. Royal's route from his birthplace in Cummington, Massachusetts, was generally westerly; from Massachusetts to New York, thence to London, and subsequently settling in Orleans Township, Ionia County, Michigan, in 1833.

William Gilson married Lois Collins on 4 August 1839. They were blessed with eight children: Orlando, William, Reuben E., Alvina Jane, Esther Anne, Silas A., James Irving, and Willis Elliot. Lois died in 1861 and William remarried Mary Thompson Green and had a son William Grant Bradish.

James Irving, my great-grandfather, born 2 August 1856 in Ionia County, married Elizabeth Jamison in Grand Rapids, Kent County, Michigan, on 11 December 1881. Family stories indicate that James and Elizabeth had two children, a boy and a girl, who supposedly moved to the west coast to live with a relative after Elizabeth "died in a fire." This story remains unsubstantiated and I am unable to find Elizabeth's place or date of death. James married Mary Harrington on 17 March 1892 in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois. Mary, born in Chicago in 1871, was the daughter of Irish parents, Thomas H. Harrington and his wife, whose given name I have yet to discover, but with a surname of O'Rourke. They had three children: Eleanor Livina, who died young, Mary Ruth, and Florence Theresa.

Mary Ruth, born 20 February 1893 in Chicago, married Frank Joseph Dusek on 25 June 1913 in Chicago. They had one daughter, Eleanor Livina, born 27 July 1913, who married James Frank Beran on 29 October 1938. They had one daughter, Juanita Dale Beran, born on 11 August 1939 in Chicago.

Juanita married Patrick Joseph Curley on 7 July 1957 and had three daughters: Diane Ruth, Debra Marie, and Denise Lynn. They moved from Elmhurst, Illinois, in 1964 and now reside in Salem Township, Washtenaw County.

A CARRIER FAMILY OF CALHOUN COUNTY, MICHIGAN

Research by Barbara W. Bentley, Ann Arbor, Michigan

Like many of Michigan's pioneers, this family came from New York State. This particular one came from Cayuga County in western New York. The group they came with was made up of relatives and neighbors, so they naturally settled into a "close-knit" neighborhood in Michigan, namely Rice Creek in northeast Calhoun County. As was mentioned in The History of Calhoun County (Everts, 1877), the men were: Burt H. Carrier, Amaziah T. Carrier, David H. Miller, Caleb Hanchett, David Hanchett, Silas Wood, Y.M. Hatch, and Abram Hadden. They came first in 1836 to buy government land grant parcels and returned in 1837 with their families. In my search, I have found that they were all related except Abram Hadden, whom they may have met along the way.

Burt H. Carrier (1807-1884), Amaziah T. Carrier (1809-1872) and Mrs. David H. Miller (Polly Carrier 1802-1877) were children of Amaziah Carrier (1775-1813) and Wealthy Hatch Carrier (1779-1847). The latter, who had been widowed, also came with her second husband, Silas Wood. Mrs. Burt Carrier (Emeline Hanchett 1812-1977) was a sister of Caleb and David Hanchett. Younglove Monroe Hatch was probably a nephew of the above Wealthy Hatch, but could have been a brother - I haven't been able to clear this up yet. Each family had bought one or more parcels in the four townships (Marengo, Lee, Sheridan and Clarence) that meet at the five corners called Rice Creek. Within a few years, other family members arrived and settled nearby. They included John S. Horton and wife, Paulina Carrier Horton (1804-1876), sister of Burt, Amaziah and Polly, Daniel Miller and Mehitable Horton Miller, parents of David H. Miller, and Mrs. Caleb Hanchett. Incidentally, Mehitable was an aunt of John S. Horton.

Amaziah T. Carrier and his wife Lois Bottum either did not come in 1837 or did not care for Michigan and returned to New York State where they lived out their lives. The others are all buried in Rice Creek Cemetery.

Burt H. and Emeline Carrier brought with them their children, Edwin Burt, four years old, and Oscar M., an infant. More children were born to them in Michigan: Alice (Diantha?) and Orange A.

Oscar M. Carrier married Susie Lyons, had no children. Alice Carrier married Sidney Thomas, had one child who died in infancy. Orange C. Carrier married Martha McOmber and they had one son, Oscar H., who lived in Owosso. I cannot trace him further.

Edwin Burt Carrier (1832-1914) married Cornelia C. Root (1831-1888) in 1853. She was, incidentally, a granddaughter of Daniel and Mehitable Miller mentioned earlier. Edwin and Cornelia had a farm in Marengo Township and there they raised their family. Lester died in infancy. Ella May came next (grandmother of this writer), then Sarah A., Wilbur O., M. Ralph, and Esther M. After Ella married, the farm was sold to her and her husband and the family moved to Lansing.

Ella May Carrier (1858-1934) married Myron Bolles (1848-1939) in 1878, and they had the following children: Ethel May, Cecil M., Cornelia F., Olive L., Burt G., and June Rae.

Barbara A. Weeks married John F. Bentley in 1942. They have one son, John G. Bentley. He married Mary Jane Dox in 1979 and they have daughters Lisa, Jennifer and Stephenie.

ADELIA A. GILLET AND HER SPOUSE ROBERT WILCOX

Research by Mrs. Ruth Reynolds Noe, Owosso, Michigan

Adelia A. Gillet was born the 16th of March, 1838, in Sharon Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan. She was raised in Pittsford, Monroe County, New York and it was there she married and died. Adelia was the daughter of Joseph and Rose Adelia Acer Gillet, early pioneers of Washtenaw County. Joseph's parents, Joseph Gillet and Deborah Watson Gillet, came also to Michigan, but their death places and burials are as yet not known.

Joseph (Jr.) married Rose Adelia Acer, daughter of David A. and Sarah Post Acer, pioneers of Pittsford, New York. They went to Sharon, Michigan, soon after this marriage. Joseph and Rose Adelia had several children: George, David, Adelia, Daniel, Veraines, Rosabelle and Bill. On the 18th of July, 1845, Rose Adelia died and the children returned to New York to live with the Acer family. There is a barely legible tombstone for Rose Adelia in the Rowe Cemetery, Sharon Township, and another stone in a cemetery in Pittsford, New York. Joseph stayed in Washtenaw County, Michigan, and his tombstone in the Rowe Cemetery notes his death occurred at age 75 years on 26 March 1875.

On the 4th of February, 1858, Adelia Gillet married Robert Wilcox, son of Thomas and Sarah Lusk Wilcox, pioneers of Pittsford, New York. Robert and Adelia had the following children: Sarah, Elizabeth, Thomas, Robert, Susan, Henry, William and Janet. Adelia died on the 8th of March, 1880, and in May, 1881, Robert married the sister, Rosabelle Gillet. Soon after this they came to Bennington Township, Shiawassee County, Michigan. They bought a farm on what is now M-52. Their children were Dewey, Allen and Scott.

It is not known if Rosabelle or the grandchildren knew that Joseph and Rose Adelia Gillet were buried in the Rowe Cemetery, which is on the same road as the Wilcox farm in Shiawassee County, but about one hundred miles south in Washtenaw County.

The Bible record below is found written in the pages of The Holy Bible, The Old and New Testaments, published by Lippincott, Grambo & Co., Philadelphia, 1854. The front cover of the Bible is engraved as: "Adelia A. Gillet from G.W.F., Feb. 4, 1858." An inscription on the flyleaf of the Bible reads:

This Bible was a gift to Adelia A. Gillette at the time of her marriage to Robert Wilcox
February 4, 1858.

Adelia and Robert were the parents of Anna Elizabeth Corey.
The Bible was given to Anna Elizabeth
by her father in 1892.

It was sold at the Corey auction to Douglas and Pauline Reynolds and was given about 1982 to Paul Raymond Wilcox of Shoreview, Minnesota. The writer is the daughter of Leo C. and Adelia Reynolds Wilcox, and a granddaughter of Thomas Wilcox.

A GILLETT DILEMMA

Research by Doris M. Amsbury, Mt. Clemens, Michigan

Recently a contributor to a "Gillet, Gillett, Gillette" family newsletter pointed out that there were 17 Jonathan Gilletts living in the year 1800! For some 200 years, just about every branch of the Gillett family named a son Jonathan, Joseph, and Jacob. What a problem for Gillett descendants and researchers.

To complicate matters further, the Gilletts not only were a very prolific family, but were also always "on the move." As the saying goes, they must have had "itchy feet," never staying in one place very long; family branches usually followed brothers, aunts, uncles, cousins into the new territory. Gilletts are found in all the migration patterns common to a particular time period.

So confusing and difficult has been Gillett research that just recently the NSDAR realized they had granted Revolutionary War service to the wrong Jacob Gillett. This happened early in this century before specific documentation requirements. Future NSDAR applicants will now have to prove correct lineage for their Jacob. This can be most difficult as there were a number of Jacob Gilletts who served in the Revolutionary War and sorting them out is a real challenge.

The writer of this article is in the process of trying to document the correct service record for her Jacob, and as luck would have it, the one given the wrong service by the NSDAR. This Jacob was born 19 March 1749 at Salisbury, Litchfield County, Connecticut, married Deborah Manrow 31 December 1769, and died while in service at Canaan, Columbia County, New York. He is buried in the old Mott/Evergreen Cemetery near Lebanon Springs, Columbia County, New York, in the same plot as his widow and her second husband Joseph Knapp. Jacob may have served in Connecticut around 1775 before moving to Canaan, but family records state that he died while serving from the King's District of Albany County, New York. Canaan at that time was part of the Albany King's District, as Columbia County was not formed until 1786.

Jacob's move from Connecticut to New York ca 1775-1776 and his death shortly thereafter complicate the search for documenting his service. Further information will be greatly appreciated on this Jacob's Revolutionary War service as well as information on the marriage of his eldest son Joseph, born 19 December 1770. This son Joseph married ca 1790-1795 Deborah Watson in New York, the exact time and place not known. Who were Deborah Watson's parents? The writer will share information.

Ed note: Additional information on this Gillett family may be found in Miss Amsbury's book A Patch - Amsbury family chronicle with allied lines of Gillett, Manning, Marsden, and Norcross (1985). The chapter on the ancestry of Thirza Gillett Amsbury Sweeting (1803-1869) concludes with a handy Gillett reference list.

FROM OUR READERS

JOHN WESLEY CONANT HOUSE, SALEM TOWNSHIP, WSHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

My family was pleased recently to receive notice from the Michigan Historical Commission, Lansing, that our home has been placed on the State Register of Historic Sites. My son is the fifth generation in the home. [A history of this family was printed in FHC, volume 12, number 2 (Fall 1988).]

The Conant House was erected by John Wesley Conant soon after his arrival from New York State in 1831. Conant was typical of the region's early settlers, was an active church member, and at his death was an elder in the local Baptist church. His sister became a missionary to Burma while a son, John S., fought with the 4th Michigan at Gettysburg during the Civil War. The house was moved from its original location when the property was acquired during World War II for construction of the Willow Run Bomber Plant.... It is historically significant as the focal point of a pioneer family whose descendants still occupy the house today. It is also associated with the state's contribution to World War II since the original homestead was incorporated into the Willow Run Plant. Although the John Wesley Conant House has been moved, due to the fact it has been sited in a similar locale, and in consideration of its state of preservation and architectural and historical associations, the staff recommends designation at the local level of significance.

END OF RECORD

Ed. Note: The long list of deaths from the Manchester, Michigan, area, now concluded, began in Family History Capers, volume 11, number 2 (Fall 1987). This is a complete transcription of Mr. Albert English's notebook, "Necrology of Manchester including residents of the village previous to its incorporation in 1867." Readers are referred to the introductory material on page 27 of FHC volume 11. The editors invite corrections to this material and acknowledge that there may be errors in the transcription. One name that always gave trouble was "Perkins" or "Peckens" -both families appeared in the county. A limited amount of checking in census and death and marriage records of Washtenaw County was done when the writing or information seemed questionable. As many of these deaths did not occur in the county, no information could easily be found. The name appearing as a "middle" name for females was indexed in FHC as a maiden name.

FROM OUR READERS

The Albert English necrology reports in Family History Capers is of interest and much help. Enclosed are a few comments on some of the families I am researching.

JAMES RICHARDSON AND THE RUSHTON FAMILY, Manchester, Michigan. The entry on the Albert English necrology report, FHC, volume 12 number 3, page 61, may be in error. Entered as James Richardson Rushton, born 28 September 1835, died 8 May 1898, I believe that Mr. English possibly intended the "Rushton" to be a cross reference, and that the person was James Richardson, a sister of Tamar Richardson Rushton, born in England 1823, and wife of William Rushton. My Rushton research in England and in Washtenaw County records has shown no James Rushton. John Rushton, born 22 January 1823 in Osgodby, Lincolnshire, England, married second Elizabeth Conley (?) and emigrated soon after 1851. William Rushton, Sr., and Thomas Rushton were also early immigrants to Washtenaw County. A sister, Mary Ann Parr, nee Rustin, emigrated with her husband and others in June 1882. The name in England appears also as Ruston, Rusting, and Rustin.

MARY SALEY, Manchester, Michigan. Could the entry in FHC, volume 12, number 2, page 42, be Mary Lamming Saley instead of Mary Lanning Saley?

SARAH RUSHTON, Manchester, Michigan. The middle name for Sarah, died May 1876, is listed in FHC, volume 12, number 1, page 14, as Borger. Could this be Berger? My data rules out most possibilities for daughters-in-law of the three Rushton emigrants. Is this perhaps a granddaughter?

A REVIEW OF THE ANNEKE JANS-BOGARDUS AND ADAM BROUWER
RESEARCH AID BIBLIOGRAPHY

By Turalee Barlow

William Brower Bogardus states in Anneke Jans-Bogardus and Adam Brouwer Research Aid Bibliography that the "Anneke Jans and Everardus Bogardus Descendants Association was formed by the author as an informal organization to keep alive the interest in these ancestors and to create a common bond of friendship among their descendants.... It is believed that the Association's library of material is now, by far, the largest collection of published and unpublished data pertaining to Anneke Jans and the Bogardus family available in the world and it is hoped that it will continue to expand in the years and generations to follow....

This publication is the first of several that are intended to be published whose purpose is to provide to those many descendants a research aid of many hundreds of published items, most of which are not readily identified in any library's card file when looking for JANS-BOGARDUS-BROUWER data.... Not included are references to published church baptisms and marriages: indexes: queries: city directories and census records; cemeteries; wills and other public records. It is expected that extracts from some of these will be published later."

Mr. Bogardus laid the book out in 5 columns: 1, a list of title, author and date; 2, remarks such as volume and page number and index references; 3, AJ signifies that the specific item contains material pertaining to Anneke Jans and her children or descendants from her marriage to Roelof Jansen; 4, BO pertains to any reference to a member of the Bogardus family; 5, BR would pertain to probable descendants of Adam Brouwer, using the surnames Brouwer, Brower or Brewer. He is quick to point out that "although this publication may assist many in finding the family information they are seeking, the data obtained is Secondary Material and should be used with great caution."

As a descendant of Anneke Jans, myself, I found the publication to contain a wealth of potentially helpful information but wish he had listed the baptism and marriage material in this publication, as that information puts meat on the bones, and without it you will have a difficult time reaching many of the same conclusions about Anneke Jans' ancestry that both Mr. Bogardus and I have reached. The book can be purchased for $10.00 postpaid from William B. Bogardus, 1121 Linhof Road, Wilmington, OH 45177.

WILLIAM C. CHURCH BIBLE RECORD

This Bible record is found in The New Testament, published by Lippincott, Grambo & Co., Philadelphia, 1854. It was contributed by Juanita Green of Killen, Texas, along with photograph copies and a copy of the will of William C. Church.

Ms. Green writes that not much is known of William C. Church and apparently Chauncey R. Church was the only family member to come to Texas. At the age of fifty-one he married Barbara Ann Richardson, who was born 24 May 1842 in Kentucky and was the widow of Dr. Z.M. Parks. Chauncey had an earlier family that probably stayed in Michigan. A 1923 letter from Julius Church of Jackson, Michigan, and addressed to Mr. Charles Henry Church, 304 Comanche St., Clarksville, Texas, begins with the salutation, "Dear Brother."

Ed note: William C. Church is first found as a farmer with his wife Lydia in Salem Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, in the Federal Census of 1850. Chauncey is not present with the family, but a Chauncey is listed in Jackson, Jackson County. At the time of death William, living in Ann Arbor, is listed as a blacksmith, born in New York. The William Church family is buried at Forest Hill Cemetery, Ann Arbor, Michigan. No parents are listed for William or Lydia in the burial records, but the record of Charles C. Church (1824-1907) lists his mother's name as Lydia Moore. Lydia's cemetery record gives her birth place as Roxbury, Delaware County, New York.
